

Quivira Council, Dillons and the Kansas Food Bank are partnering this year for our Scouting For Food event on August 24th and August 25th. While we know it is still only April, it is time to get on the schedule now before summer starts. If you have a local Dillons, sign up your unit for a collection time now! All your unit will need to do is show up with a scale! Dillons will have the collection site ready to go with signs, flyers to pass out to customers. The food banks will pick up the food from the store, so no need to transport the food anywhere. Sign up at Quivira Council Scouting for Food Dillons Store Sign Up Genius

No Dillons Store in your community?

If you do not have a local Dillons store and plan to collect either door to door or at a different store, please let us know at Non-Dillons Scouting for Food Drive Commitment Form where you will do your Scouting for Food collection, and who the beneficiary will be. We encourage you to collect on Aug 24-25, as we will be working to provide publicity about the issue of food insecurity and the scouting effort to help around that timeframe. If you have questions about how to do a Scouting for Food collection drive, see the “How To” guide and contact Rachelle Roosevelt, Rachelle.roosevelt@outlook.com, 316-217-1456

A “How To” Guide for Units in 2024

If you are not joining the Dillons/Quivira Council/Kansas Food Bank food drive, follow this step-by-step plan to your Scouting for Food event a great success.

Scouting for Food is the Scouts BSA’s yearly “good turn” which helps local food pantries and food banks to collect and distribute food to our neighbors with food insecurity.

1. Identify a distribution organization.

Check locally for organizations who distribute food to your local community. Who has your unit worked with before? If your unit is new to Scouting for Food, you can check out these resources: Kansas Food Bank | Finding Help has links to Food Help Agencies both within SG county and outside of SG county. These seems to be the most comprehensive lists available. You can also search for a pantry near you at www.foodpantries.org (please note that this may not have all of the pantry locations).

Once you identify an organization, connect with that organization about your desire to collect food for their organization. Coordinate drop off dates/times with that organization. Verify what food they will accept.

2. Schedule the collection days and start publicizing it! We encourage you to hold your event on 8/24 or 8/25.

Identify what days you plan to collect food, and then determine how you will let the community know about it. Some units distribute door hangers to the community the week before, or grocery bags. Then they come back and pick up the food on the designated day. If you want door hangers, please coordinate with your district executive in advance. Please be aware, you have to add your own dates/times to the hangers, so plan for adding that information to the hangers.

Other units notify the community through bank signs, billboards, radio, etc. and just go around and pick the food up on the designated day. Be creative about getting the word out, are their businesses who would be willing to pass fliers?

Some units work with a local grocery store to set up a collection booth in the entry way and give customers a list of foods the food bank needs. Then customers buy the food in the store and drop it off on the way out.

Please let us know at Non-Dillions Scouting for Food Drive Commitment Form where you will do your Scouting for Food collection, and who the beneficiary will be.

Make sure to notify local news media of your plans, so they can cover ahead of time and the day of your event.

3. Collect the food!—Wear your Uniforms and Take Photos!

Door to Door: On the day of collection, if you are going door to door to collect the food, make sure you bring maps of the area to give groups of kids/parents so they know their assigned area. Check Kansas public offender registry website: Public Offender Registry \(ks.gov\) to know what addresses to avoid in the neighborhood and make sure those going to that street have the information. Remind the kids not to go into anyone's home and have parents/adults assist the kids in the collection. Make sure you use the buddy system. Make sure you weigh the food collected before you deliver it and get some good photos for social media. Keep track of the total pounds of food and who all helped with the project.

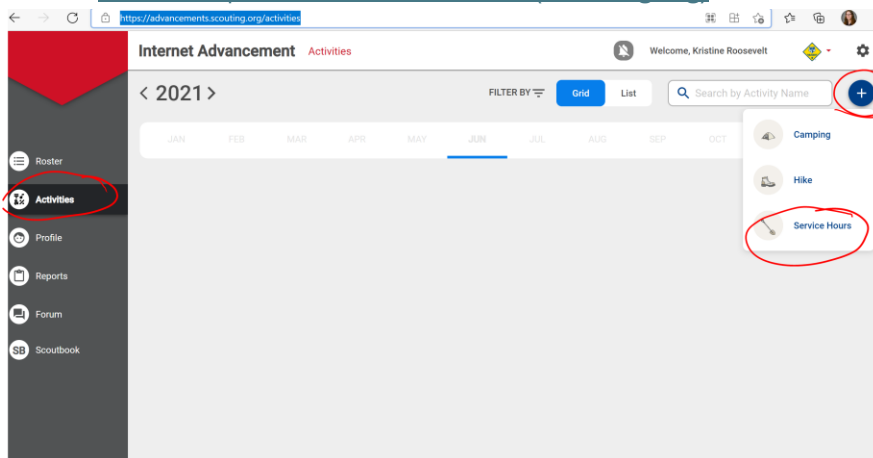

Store Front: Have a schedule for teams of youth/adults to sign up to collect the food. Be sure follow the store rules about where you set up and engaging in customers. Make sure you weigh the food collected before you deliver it and get some good photos for social media. Keep track of the total pounds of food and who all helped with the project.

4. Deliver the Food!

Since you have already connected with the Food Pantry or Food Bank, just be sure to follow through on the drop off plans. Get some good photos of this too!

5. Publish what happened!

- a. Post on social media any photos you can post, with the total amount of food collected and delivered.
- b. One of the key 3 needs to post the volunteer hours on the my.scouting.org website Activities | Internet Advancement \(scouting.org\)

- c. Report to the Council how many pounds of food you collected at Quivira Council Scouting for Food Collection Report.
- d. Hopefully you have local news media to share as well. If so, be sure to let the District Executive know.
- e. Think about other places you can share the story—do your local school and chartered organizations have newsletters or Facebook pages that you can post the story in?
